Amendment To Constitution May Be Asked

Roosevelt Is Said To Consider Proposal As Alternative

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Roosevelt has designated amendment of the Constitution as a possible alternative or even a supplement to his proposal for reorganization of the judiciary which was submitted to congress three weeks ago today.

Mr. Roosevelt's bill would provide reorganization under four general propositions with respect to which the President informed congress:

"If these measures achieve their aim, we may be relieved of the necessity of considering any fundamental changes in the power of the courts or the Constitution of our government—changes which involve consequences so far reaching as to cause uncertainty as to the wisdom of such course."

That language is interpreted to mean the President, while reluctant to propose a constitutional amendment, probably would do so if his bill failed of enactment or proved inadequate to achieve the ends he desires.

Mr. Roosevelt's determination of policy toward the courts has developed slowly since a 1932 Baltimore campaign speech in which he implied that the Republican party for 12 years had controlled not only the executive and legislative branches of government but the courts as well.

In his 1933 inaugural address the President expressed the opinion the constitution was a flexible instrument upon which extraordinary emergency action could be based. The issues between the courts and the White House rested at that point until the Supreme Court began its series of new deal opinions which have upheld five measures and invalidated nine.

STOLEN DARTS MAY BE FATAL FOR BURGLARS

PANAMA (UP)—Police looked anxiously today for 350 poisoned arrowheads stolen from the Cristobal home of Arthur J. Farrell.

It was believed that the arrows were stolen by boys ignorant of the poison and are alleged to be so deadly that a scratch would mean death.

Farrell got the heads when he went on a search in the jungles of the Netherlands Guiana for Paul Redfern, American aviator who disappeared 10 years ago on a flight to South America and has been reported as living at various places.

Copper Up 10 Points Over Thursday High

NEW YORK (UP)—Fresh war buying lifted the export price of copper today to 16.475 cents a pound delivered, 10 points above yesterday's top level and 14½ points above the domestic price which was nominally quoted at 15 cents a pound.

P. O. CLERKS MUST "SMILE"

"Scowling Mugs" Held "Bad For Business" Of Department

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The polite and courteous gentlemen who run the post-office department instructed their 100,000 clerks today to follow their example and quit growling at the cash customers.

First Assistant Postmaster General W. W. Howes, who signed the order, indicated it was the belief of the postal high command that scowling mugs behind the stamp windows are bad for business.

Sacramento's new police chief, proposing to put "the lid" on all gambling, says that includes panging, rummy, poker, bridge games in public places, luncheon club drawings and church raffles. He didn't mention whist, but probably just overlooked it. Nor did he include that eternal lottery of trying to find a parking place in Sacramento.

Announcement was made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. 88-707-182 of the marriage of their daughter, Miss 99-841-144, and Mr. 55-105-347 on Tuesday evening.

The service was performed at the home of the bride's parents and the couple were attended by Miss 67-342-981 and Mr. 34-900-333, life-long friends of the bride and bridegroom.

All of the digits were present.

Mrs. George Higbee was in town from Fairplay on Friday.

Mrs. Amy Drysdale was a visitor on Friday from Georgetown.

Mrs. Bessie Grady and daughter, Carolyn, are up from San Francisco visiting Grandpa and Grandma H. O. Waldron.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Farrell returned Thursday evening from a ten-day visit in Los Angeles, combining business with a vacation.

A suit for divorce was filed Friday morning by Attorneys Henry S. Lyon and Robert E. Roberts in behalf of Nadine Durham against Forest Durham, charging cruelty. The couple married in Placerville May 26, 1928, separated on February 18 of this year and have two children, whose custody the plaintiff seeks, together with $40 per month for their support.

Mrs. Libby Holl is employed at the Farm Advisor's office at stenographic work in connection with the county agricultural conservation association's work.

Federal Labor Board To Hold Strike Parley

Dispute In Airplane Plant To Be Aired On March 5

WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Labor Relations Board today called a hearing to adjudicate complaints of workers in the Douglas Aircraft and Northrop airplane plants at Santa Monica. The Douglas plant has been the scene of a sit-down strike.

Dr. Towne B. Nylander, regional director for the board, today dispatched notices to the two concerns directing a hearing on March 5 in Los Angeles. Maurice Howard will act as trial examiner for the N. L. R. B.

Board officials here said it would be a joint hearing and that working conditions in both plants—which are financially linked—will be discussed.

Sit-down strikers surrendered two factories today, the violence-marked Faustee Metallurgical Corporation's plant at Waukegan, Ill., and the Douglas Aircraft Corporation at Santa Monica, while union workers of the Hudson Motor Car Company in Detroit reportedly discussed a possible strike and new trouble was reported in the Chevrolet plant at Janesville, Wisconsin, where 200 workers struck and caused the management to close the plant.

A barrage of tear and knockout gas bombs, hurled by 50 sheriff's deputies, drove strikers from the Waukegan plant where two court orders for evacuation had been defied.

The 400 sit-downers who evacuated the Douglas Aircraft plant voluntarily were sent to jail on warrants charging forcible entry and "detainer."

First attempts to negotiate settlement of the four-day strike at the Electric Boat Company in Groton, Conn., collapsed and company officials warned that "illegal tactics" would be forcibly restricted.

Four Very Good Reasons

The State Bar of California advances four very good reasons for opposing the President's plan for alterations in the Supreme Court in the following resolution, adopted recently by the Bar Association's Board of Governors:

"Whereas, a proposal is before the Congress of the United States to enact a law empowering the President to appoint an additional justice of the Supreme Court of the United States for every justice over the age of 70 years, which if now enacted into law would empower the President to appoint six additional justices; and

"Whereas, there is no necessary relation between the age of 70 years and the efficiency of an incumbent justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, as the history of that court shows; and

"Whereas, the work of the Supreme Court of the United States is up to date and the court has demonstrated that nine justices are adequate to maintain the efficiency of the court and there is no justification for increasing the number of the members of the court; and

"Whereas, the Supreme Court has time and time again stood as a final refuge against oppression, against attempts to destroy freedom of speech and of the press, against attempts to impose discriminatory and oppressive regulations upon one section of the country, or upon one race or upon the adherents of a particular religious faith, against attempts to jail individuals otherwise than upon conviction of crime after a fair trial, always upholding the fundamental liberties guaranteed by the Constitution; and

"Whereas, the Constitution of the United States provides as the fundamental feature of its plan of governmental organization for three separate co-ordinate departments, namely, the legislative, the executive, and the judicial, and

"Whereas, the State Bar Act of the State of California provides that the Board of Governors shall have power to aid in the advance of the science of jurisprudence and in the improvement of the administration of justice; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the Board of Governors of the State Bar of California is opposed to any legislation, the purpose of which is to increase the number of the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States as now constituted, and condemns any attempt to interfere with the decision of cases by that court, and be it further

"Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Congress of the United States from the State of California, and be it further

"Resolved, that the executive committee of the Conference of Bar Association Delegates of the State Bar of California be and they are hereby instructed to secure action from all local bar associations in the State of California on the subject matter of this resolution.

FORD ALMANAC IS AVAILABLE FOR NEW YEAR

Brimful of useful facts and information and other material of human interest, the Ford Home Almanac for 1937 goes to the homes of the United States this week, distributed free by dealers of the Ford Motor Company. They may be obtained at the Russell J. Wilson agency, in Placerville.

Readers of the booklet will find that, in addition to the time of sunrise and sunset, adjusted to each latitude; moon phases, eclipses and the usual other information given in Almanacs, the Ford Home Almanac is replete with interesting reading material dealing with ancient and modern prophecies, some of which shaped the destiny of different countries; sea mysteries that generations of research have not solved and other miscellany.

There are also short articles dealing with the views of Henry Ford on various subjects, as well as an article showing in detail what he has done with the $13,000,000 which the public has paid for Ford cars and trucks since the Ford Motor Company began business in 1903. Most interesting are the facts that, of this vast sum, the Ford Motor Company retained for itself but 6.4 cents out of every dollar, spending the remainder, totaling nearly $12,500,000 for wages, taxes and materials.

While such information about one of the modern world's greatest industries will be found interesting by students, teachers and economists, the housewife and mother will also find the little book handy because of the reliable information it brings for first aid treatments in many different kinds of emergencies, hints for the kitchen and care of the garden and a well planned garden chart. The motorist planning a trip to any part of the United States will find in the Almanac a chart giving accurate mileage between important cities.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Count me in, boys! Let me know the dues, and a check for a life membership will be on its way to you by return air mail.

I'm talking to the gentlemen in Washington who, according to a letter I received this morning, have organized the American Wildlife Institute, an organization whose sole aim is to "exert the maximum influence on state and national legislators for the restoration of wildlife."

I would have been with you before as a charter member if I had known there was such an institute. And before I forget it—is there any commission paid for getting new members? Because if there is, I'm on velvet. I must know ten thousand lovers of wildlife who'll jump at the chance to enroll under your banners and take a whack at your parties. You do have parties don't you? Of course you do, because in the letter I got today you say you are going to have one at the Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis, March 3. And that more than a thousand of the gang from all over the country will be there.

Hot dog! That sounds as if it will be a lulu. Let me know, will you, if every member is supposed to bring his own stuff for the preservation of wild life at the party, or if there will be a committee to get things ready, with a settlement later.

I want to command you Washington fellows on picking St. Louis and the Jefferson Hotel for the party. It's a sweet place, and we had a honey of a get-together there during the world series between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Detroit Tigers a few years ago. I bet you that some of the wild life we preserved is still there.

One paragraph in your letter puzzles me a bit. You say:

"Already in Missouri the Restoration Conservation Federation, which is affiliated with the General Wildlife Federation, has achieved the record of putting through a state constitutional amendment, concentrating power over all wildlife resources in an appointive, non-partisan, non-salaried commission.

PIN A ROSE ON ME

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Officials reported to the mayor's board of control that a surplus of roses grown for use at the funerals of politicians was threatening to overwhelm the municipal farms.

with jurisdiction over fish, game, forests, wildflowers and songbirds."

Now I can see why the Missouri boys wanted to make wildlife constitutional, because you might as well have the law on your side. Also why they choose a group of non-partisans. It wouldn't be wise to have a group of biased fellows at the head who would develop one form of wildlife to the detriment of the other. And I can understand the commission refusing a salary. To take money for a job like that would be murder, wouldn't it?

But what about those fish, flowers, game, forests, and songbirds? What have they got to do with it? Is it a peculiarity of Missourians that they have to be accompanied by an otter or a weeping willow when they go on a binge. I don't think so, because I know quite a few Missourians who wouldn't have an otter around at any time. And as for a weeping willow or a birch or a maple—well, the sheer inconvenience of transporting them would run a man crazy. I trust the national lodge won't join Missouri and make a man carry a canary or a thrush around with him on his parties. Frankly, the last thing I want to hear in the morning is a bird singing. And as for a chipmunk chipmunking or a tree crashing or an opossum opossuming, that would come close to finishing me. And to wake up and see trout would.

As a brand new member I don't want to tell you how to run the organization, but I can't help but feel it would be wise to forget all about those birds and bees and fish and animals.

I have some swell suggestions to make when the vote for the site of the 1938 annual meeting comes up. You couldn't go wrong on New London, Conn., on the night following the Harvard-Yale boat race, or Louisville on derby eve. If it came to a choice between these two towns, however, I believe I'd pick New London. On second thought, though, I wouldn't take either New London or Louisville. I'd take Newport any time during an international yacht race.

I'll be seeing you boys in St. Louis, March 3, hot ziggety hot damn!
